For: Richard John Smith

I and my brother Fesal have been students of Richard Smith for over 10 years. For my part, I started taking tuition in HND Business Studies on September 2001 and I must confess that without the support and guidance of Richard as a tutor, I would have struggled to climb the educational ladder on my own. To articulate why he has proven to be a great tutor is simply in the way he has displayed confidence, professionalism in his subjects and communicating things extremely well. He would always be fully focused and most of all he would not rush and allow me to work at my own pace. This method helped alleviate the pressure I had in learning. Within months and a handful of lessons with Richard, I was making great progress and this could easily be depicted by the grades I was achieving.

Over the years, I have managed to achieve a degree in 'Business & Marketing' and complete a Masters in the same subject. Richard has also been effective in counseling when family and other issues would start to interfere with my studies. He has helped me in interviewing skills and also in making the right choices in career. Overall, Richard has not only been useful in teaching but also in the general course or progression of my working life. He is a tutor I would recommend to anyone.
